PHILADELPHIA (October 13, 2021) – Wells Fargo Center, in partnership with its concessionaire Aramark, today announced its full lineup of new food and beverage offerings coming to the arena for the 2021-2022 events season. This new lineup of concessions will be available at the arena starting this Friday, October 15 during the Philadelphia Flyers season opener vs. Vancouver Canucks.

Ordering food and beverages at the arena has never been easier, thanks to QR codes posted on seat armrests and throughout the building that allow fans to order their food and drinks directly from their phones. And, starting this year, fans on the Club Level will also be able to have food and drinks delivered straight to their seats. All food and beverage purchases at Wells Fargo Center are also now cashless, which will significantly reduce wait times so fans can catch more of the action.

The full culinary experience at Wells Fargo Center is sure to satisfy all appetites with a wide range of offerings that includes fan favorites, health-conscious items, international flair, made-from-scratch premium menus, and local flavors.

“We want every single part of the fan experience at Wells Fargo Center to be top-notch, and that definitely includes great food and beverages. In partnership with Aramark, we’ve got a fantastic list of offerings for our fans this season, so no matter what your taste is, you can eat and drink well at Wells Fargo Center this season,” said Valerie Camillo, President of Business Operations for the Wells Fargo Center.

New Concepts, Menu Items and Expanded Locations

Fans will be greeted by new branded concepts at concession stands throughout the Main Concourse and Mezzanine Levels. Many concepts will have rotating menu options to guarantee a variety for the arena's most well attended fans.

Local favorite Federal Donuts will also expand its offerings and will now offer its delicious donuts and chicken sandwiches at Section 207.

Premium Upgrades

Premium guests will also be treated to major upgrades throughout their culinary offerings. The Center City Club, the arena's exclusive Event Level club, will be debuting a completely from-scratch menu from new head chef Jason Beare. New items on the menu will include Bacon-Wrapped Figs, South Philly Pork Egg Rolls, and more.

In addition to these new culinary offerings, Wells Fargo Center has also made significant technology advancements to its culinary program, including cashless transaction at points of purchase, in-seat delivery and shorter expected wait times. Full details on these enhancements can be found below:

Mobile Ordering

Guests can now order their game-day favorites through mobile ordering. Through this new platform, fans can skip the line and place their concession orders, right from the comfort of their seats. To access the arena's mobile ordering platform, fans can scan QR codes located around the arena's Main Concourse, Mezzanine Level, and on individual seats' armrests.

Mobile ordering can also be accessed through the NHL app by visiting the Arena section and clicking on "Mobile Ordering" – app can be downloaded via the App Store or Google Play.

Orders can be retrieved at the designated pick-up spots located at Sections 104, 110 and 221.

In-Seat Delivery (Club Level Only)

Club Level guests will now have the option to receive their mobile concessions orders via in-seat delivery, making delicious food and drink just a few taps away. Simply access the Tapin2 mobile platform to place your order and within minutes your order will be hand delivered to your exact seating location.

Cashless Transactions

All transactions at Wells Fargo Center are now completely cashless, including all concessions purchases. Fans carrying cash, can utilize the arena's new "reverse ATMs," simply insert your cash and a pre-paid card in that amount will be dispensed. All major credit cards, prepaid cards and digital payments such as Apple Pay and Google Pay will be accepted at all points of purchase within the arena.
